NAZIS SEEKING RUMANIAN TIES

Berlin Reported To Have Non-Interference Pledge from Russia.

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, March 14—Germany an unimpeachable although non official source disclosed today has obtained a definite pledge from Soviet Russia that Rumania will be spared come what may in southeast Europe

This assurance, which probably will be publicly documented soon apparently has enabled German diplomacy in turn to make Rumania incline toward a Russian-Rumanian non-aggression pact

Negotiations are being conducted in the greatest secrecy but circumstantial evidence points to Berlin as one center where, to say the least the subject is being aired German Russian and Rumanian sources, however say this capital is not the scene of actual negotiations

One interesting factor is the recent arrival in Berlin of a Rumanian general Technically, he is here to negotiate extension on the German – Rumanian trade ...aty to Germany's Bohemia-Moravia protectorate

(Authoritative sources in Bucharest said a Rumanian commission of high army officers was in Berlin)

Just why a military rather than an economic mission should visit Berlin at this time is a mystery

Another interesting factor is a special delivery letter which also reached foreign diplomats and other distinguished foreigners today asking them to stay away from a luncheon of the German academy to which they had accepted invitations Dr Helmuth Wohlthat of the ministry of economics was scheduled to speak on Rumania

On the orders of Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop the academy directors had to send letters rescinding the invitation and stipulating that Herr State Councillor Wohlthats address may be delivered only before German nationals

SLAYER OF BRITISH OFFICIAL ARRAIGNED

Indian Declares He Intended Shooting Only as Protest.

By The Associated Press

LONDON March 14 — A 37-year-old British Indian engineer Mahomed Singh Azad was ar...raigned today in heavily guarded Bow Street court charged with the assassination of Sir Michael O'Dwyer, a retired Indian administrator

The stocky defendant smiled as Detective Inspector Swain testified that Azad after the killing last night at Caxton hall, had said

"I did not mean to kill him—I just did it to protest

The prisoner was remanded in custody for a week after he waived questioning by the officer

The assassination overshadowed war news on London's front pages and evoked in one editorial a hint that it might start an 'outbreak of Indian terrorism in Great Britain'

Most newspapers however regarded the shooting as an isolated incident.

The assassin was overpowered by police before he could escape from the hall when he fired four pistol shots after O'Dwyer finished a speech in reminiscences The lieutenant-governor of the punjab died almost immediately from a wound in the chest

One bullet grazed Lord Zetland, secretary of state for India Others struck the arms of Sir Louis Dane and Lord Lamington, both former British ambassadors of Indian provinces

Guardsmen Patrol Oklahoma Dam in State's Rights War

By The Associated Press

DISNEY Okla, March 4—National guardsmen patrolled the Grand River dam today as Gov Leon C Phillips refused to give ground in his states rights war against the public works administration

Work on the $20 000 000 hydro electric project continued however under the watchful eyes of three National Guard officers who were ordered to call a halt—by force if necessary—when construction reaches the point that lands could be flooded

Seventy more guardsmen were mobilized at the Wagoner armory 60 miles from the dam site

Calling out the guard late yesterday Phillips delivered a scathing attack against the PWA from which he seeks $850 - 000 for roads and bridges which would be inundated

'This action might not have been necessary if they hadn't broken their word by starting the last arch' he commented 'I am going to keep the guards there until I know I am safe'

Phillips a staunch advocate of states rights also planned a state court fight to prevent closing the gates and flooding the 52 000 acre reservoir He ordered Attorney General Mac Q Williamson to seek an injunction

John M Carmody, federal works administrator remained silent on Phillips' declaration of martial law, indicating the agency would stand for the present on recent letters to Phillips suggesting that the matter be settled in court This fire redhaired governor adamantly has refused to do

The PWA granted the dam authority a state agency $9 000 000 outright and purchased $11 000,-000 worth of its bonds

FRIDAY FINAL DAY FOR TAX RETURNS

Rush Expected in Marion and Throughout Ohio.

Scores of residents of Marion and vicinity joined other Ohioans today in hurrying to the income tax man to file their returns before the penalty deadline falls tomorrow at midnight

In the branch office in the basement of the post office the special agents were expecting a rush today and tomorrow For the past few days citizens have been filing returns at the rate of about 150 or 175 a day The total number of returns filed here will not be known however until late tomorrow since many persons called early in the month at the office but delayed filing About 1 600 returns are expected some 400 more than the average for the last few years.

The office here will be open until 8 o'clock tonight and until midnight tomorrow

Similar increases were reported from elsewhere in Ohio—notably Cleveland Columbus and Cincinnati districts, The Associated Press reported

Much of the boost was due to inclusion of state, county township municipal and school employes hitherto exempted

Cleveland reported 114 222 returns filed to date 33 183 more than in the corresponding 1939 period Collections were $6 810 - 866 exceeding the comparable 1939 figure by $2 297 027 Frank F Genisch internal revenue collector expects returns in his 22-county district to total 250 000 an increase of 25 per cent Columbus returns to March 12 totaled 24,747, compared to 21 276 for the same period last year Collections in the district in 1936 were $632 836

On March 1 the 13 county Cincinnati district showed 8 500 more returns than for the corresponding 1939 period

NORWAY, SWEDEN LIKELY TO FORM PACT WITH FINNS

IDEA FAVORED IN STOCKHOLM

Sweden and Norway Find Cause for Concern in Finnish Peace.

By The Associated Press

STOCKHOLM March 14—The Swedish foreign office announced today that the Swedish government, in reply to a question from the Finnish government, had declared itself ready and willing to discuss the possibility of a defensive alliance

Norway's foreign minister, Halvdan Koht, made a virtually identical announcement soon after President Kyosti Kallio of Finland in a broadcast from Helsinki said the need for such an alliance was apparent.

The three northern nations moving for joint defense discussions apparently were spurred by Russia's terms exacting vital territorial concessions from Finland as the price for ending the Finnish-Russian war

Cause for Concern

Sweden and Norway found cause for concern in the rail and air right-of-way Russia won across Finnish territory to the Swedish and Norwegian frontiers

Sweden, taking stock of changes in Scandinavia's strategic position as a result of Soviet Russia's inroads on Finland now is prepared for an unbiased examination of the situation lest Finland become another Czecho-Slovakia

Apparently she favors some sort of defensive alliance of the north countries to insure that the Russians will not follow up the Moscow settlement with a march to Helsinki as the Germans followed Munich with a march to Prague

There remained, of course the possibility that Germany herself might stand in the way of any such Russian move

Last night Swedish Foreign Minister Christian Gunther told a special gathering of parliament that the "danger is not over' and that 'as a result of Finland's altered frontiers our own position has become worse viewed generally, than it was before the Russian Finnish conflict

Kalt Question Studied

Gunther pointed to provisions in the peace of Moscow advancing the Russian frontier toward Sweden in the Salla area and providing for construction of a railway through that zone to link the Russian Murmansk railway with a Finnish line connecting with Swedish Haparanda at the head of the Gulf of Bothnia

These he said, are conditions that are of evident interest to us'

Gunther said that Sweden's role in the initialing of Finnish Russian peace talks was that of an interested ary, that Sweden put no pressure on Finland to accept Moscow's terms and that Germany had not tried to influence the Stockholm government

Now that peace has been achieved, he said that "the northern countries should be prepared to direct their policy more purposefully than before' and added that the question of strengthening their cooperation should be submitted to an unbiased examination"

At Helsinki Finnish Foreign Minister Vaino Tanner said that Finland had taken the initiative in asking for conversations looking to a defensive pact with Sweden and Norway to insure her altered borders against further violation

HATCH BILL FOES RESIGNED TO DEFEAT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 14—Apparently resigned to eventual senate broadening of the Hatch 'anti politics" act, opponents sought to define in the measure the political activities from which it would bar many state employes

Senator Brown (D Mich), who has complained that the measure would stop many 'proper' political actions, said he would attempt to insert the civil service rules which guide federal employes against violations of the present Hatch act

The list covers 18 divisions of political activities, ranging from prohibitions against being a candidate for any public office to betting on election results

Senator Hatch (D-NM), however, was understood to believe that some other way might be found of obtaining the same objective

The economy question, which will be paramount in senate debate on the agriculture bill, was causing concern among many congressmen A leading house economy advocate expressed the opinion that this congress would vote appropriations beyond the $45 000 000 000 federal debt limit without increasing taxes or the debt limitation.

Remedies for Congestion Urged in Traffic Survey

Arterial Highways, "Loop" System To Shunt Through Traffic Around Business Area Among Proposals.

This is the fourth in a series of articles compiled from information in the recently completed WPA traffic survey report.

* * *

Marion has literally outgrown its streets, according to the WPA traffic survey report

Originally designed for a city much smaller than the Marion of today and not designed for the heavy flow of motor vehicles the streets are frequently scenes of congestion and confusion The accident rate is high and movement often slow

Being the shopping center for a large rural population Marion is subjected to this traffic load in addition to others Traffic reaches "peaks on Fridays and Saturdays from 3 to 9 p m

Congestion is among the conditions responsible for the fact that there were 536 reported accidents in 1938 and 501 in the first 10 months of 1939 according to the report

Long-Range Program Urged

A long range corrective program is needed the report states

Five points are listed as recommendations after a detailed study of traffic volume and movement

1 Determination of the direction of the city's future expansion and creation of arterial highways to care for the future demand

2 Elimination of jogs blind intersections and the connection of streets now unavailable for through traffic because of breaks in the continuation

3 Creation of a 'loop system for traffic desiring to by pass the central part of town

4 Creation of special by-pass routes for transient trucks

5 Establishing of set back lines as a part of a comprehensive zoning plan widening the streets to meet future traffic demands

Several other recommendations for relieving congestion were made Among them were establishment of parallel parking on Main and Center streets uptown and ending of double parking by commercial vehicles It is also suggested that trucks delivering or loading in the uptown district be restricted to one-ton capacity and of the four-wheel single-unit type

Loading Zones Proposed

To compensate business houses for the removal of double parking privileges for trucks there would be special loading zones established 20 feet long as follows

Two zones in each block on Center street from Leader to State, on Main street from Church to Mill, on States street from Church to Mill The zones would be staggered, one midway in the first half of a block on one side of the street and one midway in the second half of the block on the opposite side

With such zones, the city could revoke numerous special privilege loading zones now used by some businesses

The report also suggests that commercial vehicles be forbidden to park with rear wheels to curb between 8 a m and 6 p m and that heavy trucks of the tractor-trailer type be barred from loading and unloading in the central business district between 8 a m and 6 p m

Congestion is not due to a great extent to passenger cars but rather to the heavy cumbersome commercial carrier the report states This congestion is particularly noticeable at intersections controlled by traffic light signals where local mass carriers make passenger stops'

Traffic Volume Studied

All these conclusions and recommendations were made on the basis of an elaborate study of traffic volume some of the highlights of which follow

The survey was conducted at 78 selected locations Counts were made to determine peak loads on various days

The investigators found that the problem of traffic movement was complicated by bottle necks unregulated intersections character of intersecting streets poor location or timing of the traffic signals

The report shows that the bulk of the traffic is concentrated on seven main streets—Center Main

DILLINGER PAL NAMED IN PLOT

Union County Prisoner Also Linked with Escape Plan.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, March 14—A Cleveland robber was named today as the 'brains' of a thwarted Ohio penitentiary escape plot which was designed to free one of the surviving leaders of the Dillinger gang

Warden Frank Henderson said that Frank Benszowoski, 32 of Cleveland engineered a 'fantastic escape plan which involved kidnaping the warden, in an effort to free Russell Clark 41, and two other life termers last week

Clark is serving a life sentence for the slaying of Sheriff Jess Sarber of Allen county Sarber was shot to death when John Dillinger's henchmen liberated him from the county jail Clark was granted mercy on a murder conviction but his two accomplices Harry Pierpont and Charles Makley were sentenced to death

Benszowoski's plan, Henderson said included the use of wooden pistols such as the ones Makley and Pierpont fashioned in a daring effort to escape from death row shortly before their scheduled execution in 1934 Makley was killed in the attempt Pierpont survived his wounds but was later electrocuted

To Use Wooden Pistols

Accused with Benszowski as the originators of what Henderson termed a 'hare-brained' freedom plot were Cecil Martin, 23, of Pickaway county, John Gleeton 38 of Cincinnati and Walter Szafranski 25 of Cleveland

Szfranski is serving life for second degree murder, Martin 10 25 years for robbery and Gleeton 2-40 for auto theft

They were to have overpowered Henderson and other prison officials at a classification board hearing either March 5 or 7 and force them to free Clark, Vernon Taylor, 35 of Union county, and LeRoy Keith 26, of Warren from L block" This is the cellblock for incorrigible prisoners

Serve Murder Terms

Taylor is serving life for bank robbery and Keith for second degree murder

After getting free the seven men were to have scaled the 32-foot west wall and fled in an auto which was supposed to have been waiting outside

KALLIO URGES WAR ALLIANCE

Finnish President Sees Necessity After Humiliating Russian Peace.

By The Associated Press

HELSINKI, March 14—President Kyosti Kallio told Finland today her losing fight with Soviet Russia ended by a crushing peace after 103 days had made a Finnish-Swedish - Norwegian defensive alliance inescapably necessary

The necessity of such an alliance he said has "become evident during this war' and he added

I dare to hope that the essentiality of a northern defensive alliance has become evident also to our neighbors during this war

Finland counted on new fortifications and a possible alliance, if need be to save her from Czecho-Slovakia's fate.

Fortified Areas Lost

Shorn of heavily fortified frontiers by the pact of Munich Sept 30 1938, Czecho-Slovakia just a year ago tomorrow passed under the rule of Adolf Hitler's reich.

President Kallio spoke in a broadcast address and he said to his people they should not forget that Finland still is independent and still possesses a powerful army

He expressed appreciation for American relief activities and said that in this respect the work done by former President Hoover has been of extreme value" He also thanked the Scandinavian countries and western powers for their aid

As he spoke all available trucks were on the road to begin the work of removing thousands of

Premier Risto Ryti and the delegation which accepted the Russian settlement in Moscow returned to Helsinki last night with the text of the peace pact

Looking ahead, Kallio declared "this nation must count on its own strength and unity for the great reconstruction task' but added "we trust that those civilized nations which recognize the fundamental principles on which our defensive struggle was based will make it their duty to support us

Foreign Minister Vaino Tanner made it clear that despite the crushing peace that ended 105 days of war with Soviet Russia, Finland intended to take every step to protect her newly-narrowed borders from future threats

Asked if fortification of the new borders would be permitted, Tanner flashed back

'Who is going to stop us?'

Nevertheless, with the great Mannerheim line and most of Finland's other frontier defenses ceded to Russia and a Russian naval base to be established on the key peninsula of Hanko under Tuesday's treaty of Moscow, Finland looked forward to discussions soon aimed at a defensive alliance with Sweden and Norway

Defense Alliance Necessary

President Kyosti Kallio said in a broadcast today that a Finnish-Sweden-Norwegian defense alliance is inescapably necessary

The process developed by Lester Yeager, former press room foreman at The Star, to scent a perfume advertisement appearing in the Indianapolis Star several weeks ago, is described in the current issue of Popular Science magazine.

The process which was explained in The Star several weeks ago consists of mixing the perfume with a special ink used in printing the advertisement.

Mr. Yeager, production foreman for the Indianapolis newspaper, and other executives of the paper are shown in photographs accompanying the story in Popular Science. He left Marion about three years ago.

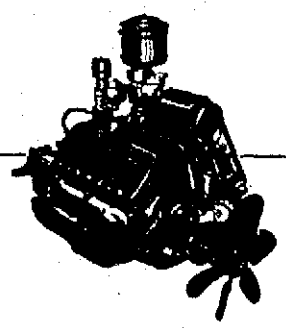
"I am the ENGINE that couldn't happen!"



THIS SPRING, as my eighth birthday passes, I count more than 6 million of me in use. Yet I am the low cost V-8 engine that wise men once said never could be made.

IT IS TRUE that before my time the V-8 engine was a rich man's engine, too costly to make and too costly to run for any one else to enjoy. And it is true that without the patience and resources that could cast my new one-piece cylinder block hundreds of times before finding the one right way to do it—I might not yet exist.

BUT IT IS ALSO TRUE that today I am every man's pride and pleasure in every corner of the earth!

BECAUSE MY CYLINDERS are eight, my owners know smoothness of power-flow, quickness of response; nimbleness of action that are unknown to engines of fewer cylinders than mine.

BECAUSE MY CYLINDERS are small, I exact no penalty in cost from my owners for my advantages of performance. My efficient use of fuel burns no more gasoline than fewer cylinders of equal total size require.

BECAUSE MY CYLINDERS are banked in two rows, my over-all length is short, and passengers inside the car behind me find extra length for their own comfort.

AND, BECAUSE the quality of my metals is Ford quality, and the precision of my making Ford precision—I bring to my work dependability and stamina that are known the world around. It costs but little to buy me; little to run me, little to keep me in shape.

IN THE EIGHT YEARS of my life, many improvements have come to me—in economy, in efficiency, in quietness. Three years ago I was brought out in a 60 horsepower size, besides my 85. Owners of that new size now are telling of 22 to 27 miles per gallon of gas; and fine V-8 performance to boot.

LAST YEAR, in larger size with heavier parts and 95 horsepower, I became the powerplant of a new car called the Mercury 8. A fine, big car that's getting a reception in excess of anything that had been planned or hoped for it—now in the top ten.

THIS YEAR TOO, in all my sizes, I find myself in finer cars than I have ever worked in before. Cars that make people talk excitedly, as I pass, of something they call style. Cars that make people riding behind me murmur approvingly of comfort and of riding quality; and of quietness that's new.

YES, I AM THE ENGINE that couldn't happen—but did. I am the engine designed for the future and already proved by the past: I invite you to come with me out on the road today. For I am an engine of action, and I'd like to let my action speak to you for me.

A. E. F. Veteran Recalls Having Helped Arrest Hitler in 1920

by United Press

SAN [illegible] P. Cal.—Carroll Boswell, [illegible]nt city engineer, is [illegible] is an American citi[illegible] back in the United [illegible]d of being back in [illegible]own as the "occupied [illegible] Germany after the [illegible]

[illegible] is that Boswell and [illegible]e buddy in the A.E.F. [illegible] once to arrest Adolf [illegible]

[illegible] a year's action in [illegible] Company F of the [illegible]y. He was wounded [illegible] but after his recovery [illegible]ner year and a half [illegible]merican army of occu[illegible]e Rhineland. It was [illegible]n Oct., 1920, that he [illegible] Jeffries of the same [illegible]ested Hitler when the latter was an unknown agitator.

The American army of occupation at Mayen," Boswell said, "was at one time left alone to police the entire city, which has 50,000 inhabitants, while other Allied contingents went to stimulate war maneuvers near the Polish front, but which in reality was intended as an effort to halt the Russians who were then threatening to move in through Poland on an armyless Germany.

"We had a big job on our hands, because in addition to policing the city in general, we were charged with the protection of the bridgeheads and the ammunition stores. The result was that any agitator that showed up usually got short shrift.

Corporal Jeffries and I were on our round of duties through the city that evening when we passed the Hofbrau, one of the city's 'hot spots.'

"It was usually going full blast till 1 or 2 in the morning, but this evening, although it was 8:30, all the windows were shuttered and the door was locked.

"We peeked in through a broken shutter and saw a slim, youthful appearing man on the platform and about 125 people listening.

"Suddenly, a one-armed man, who, we learned later, was an ex-major in the German army, picked up a wine bottle and threw it at the speaker, knocking him off the platform. A riot started at once.

"We knew the place and its surroundings well, as we had been at Mayen for a year, and when we saw the speaker dive for the rear door, which we knew opened on a narrow alley, we dashed for it, stationing ourselves, one on each side.

Hitler Not Armed

"Then as the man dashed by we stuck out our feet and tripped him up. He was unarmed, so we merely trussed up his arms and turned him over to the provost officer.

"Before the military police he gave his name as 'Adolf Hitler' and at once launched into a long tirade.

"The next day Hitler was turned over to the German civilian police and they kept him moving from city to city, wherever he provoked a riot, while all the military police were notified to pick him up at any time and turn him over to the local German authorities.

"Two months afterwards I was returned to the United States and to my home at Oakland, and never heard of Adolf Hitler again until his name began to appear in the news in 1925."

Boswell said that while Hitler was making his Mayen speech he still talked in the accent of his native Austria. He had his "toothbrush" mustache at that time, too.

Finland Proves "Sensible"

COMPARED with former mishandling by invaders Finland's apparently orderly settlement of its war with Russia is almost a triumph It has lost territory and sovereign prestige but it retains its political independence at least for the present

As German spokesman put it the Finns have proved sensible Confronted with a choice between a war they couldn't win and concessions greater than those they were unwilling to make at the outset of war they have chosen to quit fighting while they still could make terms with the enemy

Why then did they fight in the first place? Apparently they counted on assistance which wasn't forthcoming The allies they hoped to gain from resisting Russia didn't materialize Their government like the governments of Ethiopia and Poland counted on outside assistance and was left holding the bag

The impact of this thrice-repeated lesson on other weak governments cannot be overestimated It may be imagined that when their time comes to prove 'sensible' In the presence of the mailed fist they will remember the experiences of Ethiopia Poland and Finland Great Britain and France have lost diplomatic face to say nothing of military advantage

Collective security which began to be a doubtful source of protection when Japan invaded Manchuria has been blown sky high There isn't any such animal Perhaps there never was but governments that had something to gain from thinking so clung desperately to the illusion

They know now that the thing they hoped was going to guarantee the security of small countries against big ones was wishful thinking—something they believed because they wanted it to be true The law of big dog eat little dog never was repealed they were naive to think it had been

The disillusionment of the weak is complete Might makes right in international relations Perhaps it always did but for a few short years the weak nations dared to dream it was going to be different

Wanna Buy a Book?

MR JOHN D M HAMILTON stuck out his neck and asked for what he got when he invited Mr James Aloysius Farley to enter a no campaign souvenir book pact He might as well have proposed that the postmaster general cut off a leg

It gave the Democratic chairman a chance to pour it on his rival for the way the Republicans raise money (they hope) plus a lot of free advertising for the party's 1940 best seller which was worth $800 000 in 1936

Of the two the free publicity was harder to swallow It may boost circulation of the souvenir books in which case the advertising rate would soar even higher than it is already "Mr Hamilton should know better than to advertise his competitor's product

As for the way the major parties raise money in general it looks like an ethical tossup Republicans lacking a monster bureaucracy to milk and with no favors to bestow must do what Democrats did in their lean years—tap wealthy men who can afford to put cash on the line Democrats stage banquets—R S V P—at $100 a plate sell advertising space to manufacturers who can't afford not to buy it then sell the advertising to cash customers Neither method has much to commend it except absence of a better method As far as the public is concerned criticism of one at the expense of the other is pure tosh

Early Planting

POLITICULTURE the science of winning farm votes is the present order of business in congress.

Senate appropriations committee voted $309 789 584 additional in farm benefits to the President's budget estimate The senate is expected to follow through

That is approximately what the house of representatives has pared to axe from eight appropriation bills in an attempt to avoid $460 000 000 of new taxes recommended by the President to keep the national debt under the 45 billion dollar limit

If the house cannot balk the senate on increased benefits for agriculture in other words its economy hopes will melt with the coming of spring This happens to be pre-election year knowing insiders predicted would happen when spring came but the economizers still have hope

They continue to believe the surest way to get reelected in 1940 is to boast about the money they helped to save instead of the money they helped to spend If they're right a turning point in American history has been reached Pending proof the politicalculturists are planting money where they figure it will do the most good

News Behind the News

Von Ribbentrop's Mission To Mussolini and Vatican Regarded Here As Failure

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON March 14—Evidence of German publicity and the complete failure of Von Ribbentrop's mission to Mussolini and the Vatican Those who have a pipeline to inside information here are now convinced the German foreign minister went to Rome solely for one reason He believed Mussolini to be angry and determined to resist the British coal seizures in which case Germany could have promised a stronger political and economic understanding The Italian settlement of the coal business pulled the props from under him and forced him to resist to push it does less to cover the premature collapse of his mission

Paul Mallon

Von Ribbentrop's thinking according to the version accepted here The enthusiasm of the Pope was reported somewhat below zero The possibility of German-Italian cooperation in the Balkans (German advertising has made much of this point) is remote

The Italian situation is the same as before If Russia moves into Rumania Italy expects to fight alongside the Allies but independent of them If Germany cooperates with Russia Italy will not fight but will withdraw the economic support she is now giving Germany

Comfort For U S

The powers that be here were greatly comforted by these reports Before they arrived the threat of Italo-German cooperation seemed likely to become the breaking point of the war A three-cornered axis through Moscow Berlin and Rome could effectively isolate France and Britain from Europe and cause their defeat In the economic war they have been waging

Such a dictatorial partnership could sweep Scandinavia and the Balkans and eventually reach out and grasp the Suez Canal and British spheres of influence in Egypt and the near East

Stalin's Troubles

More confidential dispatches from Russia are daily verifying Stalin's incredible internal economic condition No milk sugar and butter are available in Moscow and very little bread Food prices have risen more than 33 per cent in the past 60 days

The condition is mainly due to Russian diversion of all possible means of transportation to military purposes Apparently there is plenty of food available but the remaining transportation facilities are insufficient to supply the most populous communities.

Several months will be required to get things straightened out and therefore a Russian attack in the Balkans or against Turkey is not expected for at least that length of time

The Germans are trying to help straighten out the Russians They have taken over for instance a Silesian railway After the Polish war it was in Russian hands and the Germans were limited to three trains a day Now the trains are being operated by German crews who are improving equipment and the roadbed and operating an increasing number of trains

Good news to Germany also is the weather man's report that the Danube is thawing Hitler is building and buying every barge he can to open this connection with Russia and the Balkans at the earliest moment

The appropriation of Germany with these economic factors makes the long threatened spring offensives seem less likely

War Expenditures

A new computation of the terrific war expenditures of the Allies can be made from newly collected foreign cables received by the commerce department These indicate the British are now spending at about the rate of 9 000 000 pounds a day $38 000 000 at the current rate of exchange The French are spending 730 000 000 francs or $21 000 000 a day

British national income has also been recently figured at something under 8 000 000 000 pounds per year which would mean that Britain is spending more than one half the income of all its people to conduct the war

French national income has been guessed by one fiscal agent of this government at 140 000 000 000 francs for 1939 With a war expenditure of 700 000 000 000 francs this would indicate the French are spending more than their entire 1938 income in the conduct of the war

Will Huey Get a Statue?

Decision Is Up To His Brother, the Soon To-Retire Governor

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON March 14—The Long machine in Louisiana has met the fate of the one-hoss shay but visitors to Washington's Statuary Hall in years to come may find Louisiana's most honored son is the late Huey Long

Whether they do or don't is up to Governor Earl Long Huey's brother and the man who was at the wheel when the machine went into the ditch

Jack Stinnett

Back in 1861 when the Civil war was grinding out heroes at a dizzy pace congress decided to take the matter in hand It passed a law The law said each state could have two nice pedestals in Statuary Hall to support the statues of the deceased heroes that state considered worthy of such honor

When Louisiana got back in the union fold it paid no attention to the law But in 1938 the state legislature found a hero to their liking and put up $15 000 for a statue of the assassinated King fish After that gesture they did nothing about withdrawing the money from the treasury and the appropriation will go back to the state for expending else if it isn't withdrawn before July 1941

Time Limited

Governor Long hasn't that much time His official sun sets May 14 when he goes out of office If he acts before then the name and figure of Huey Long will be perpetuated along with such heroes as Samuel Adams Henry Clay Jeff Davis Daniel Webster Sam Houston Robert Fulton and John C Calhoun in one of the nation's most distinguished halls of fame

Both in Washington and Louisiana the state officials asked about it wouldn't say yea and wouldn't say nay and the new administration hasn't even hinted what he'll do if Governor Long doesn't choose to put brother Huey in the Capitol It would hardly seem right though to expect the new anti-Long administration to honor the man who sewed up Louisiana politics in his own little sack and for so many years refused them even one little peek

There is but little by hardly any better way for a state to memorialize one of its distinguished sons than by putting him up in marble or bronze in Statuary Hall Even when the deed of the dead hero are forgotten and his name stirs only a vague recollection there are the Capitol guides to jog the memory of older visitors to Washington and tell new generations how these men reached the pedestals in this hall of the mighty

They have to do a lot of explaining of course about Washington or Garfield or Andrews Jackson or Ethan Allen or Robert E Lee or Roger Williams They're all well remembered in the history books But here Georgia has wisely written a permanent record for Dr Crawford William Long whose pioneering with ether anaesthesia in 1842 gave him a high place in the nation's medical history And Kentucky has honored Ephraim McDowell another distinguished physician who performed the first ovariotomy—the operation that annually saves thousands of women's lives—in 1809 and almost lost his life at the hands of a mob because of it

Saving the Elbows

There are in all 72 statues from 38 state Statuary Hall reached its population peak in 1933 Guess that 1864 congress never figured there would be anything like 48 states so the boys in 33 had to straighten them out to keep from chipping the elbows of the crowding great Now each state gets only one pedestal in Statuary Hall and one in other prominent corridors and vestibules or in the rotunda

What I wanted to know and couldn't find out is what's the matter with those other ten states? Haven't they any famous sons? Or can't the folks get together on who deserves such an honor? Or are they broke?

Idaho Arizona Minnesota and South Dakota have only taken one spot each The states that haven't scratched the surface yet are Colorado Montana Nevada New Mexico North Dakota Oregon Utah Washington and Wyoming If any of them has even made a recent gesture toward putting a Capitol halo over the memory of one of their heroes David Lynn Capitol architect hasn't heard of it

Maybe the mamas and papas out there are waiting for Junior to grow up and be President

War Birds

LONDON — British warplanes patrolling English and Scottish coasts for enemy submarines and aircraft now carry pigeons for emergency wireless

The birds are released when a plane is forced down on the sea or if its radio equipment goes out of action

Like other RAF personnel the birds first go through a period of training To accustom them to sea flying an aircraft takes off with a basket of pigeons whose home lofts are not far from the aerodromes When the machine is well away from the land the observer puts the pigeons out through the hatch

Why do the birds need training? Novices are to fly as soon as they are released and are swept away by the slipstream of the plane Confused it then takes them several minutes to decide on the course to home

Veteran RAF pigeons now even keep their wings closed when released go into a dead drop to several hundred feet until they are clear of the slipstream then set an immediate and true course for home.

World's Changed Habits

Work, Recreation and Eating Adjusted To War Economy.

(From the New York Herald Tribune)

AROUND the globe men's working recreation and eating habits are being adjusted to the war economy which grips nearly three quarters of the world's population now engaged in declared and undeclared conflict. In both neutral and belligerent countries demands of international trade and national defense have stepped up one in dustry slowed down another

As certain non essential commodities are curtailed shipbuilding programs airplane manufacture and munitions making have boomed along with war born oddities and specialties such as the art of camouflage, air raid protection code detection and laboratory and technical research in perfecting new fighting machines for land sea and air So many new restrictions have been put into effect to conserve supplies and regulate behavior that decree making (and changing) has become a major branch of governmental machinery

Since the outbreak of hostilities potential war babies significant and insignificant—have appeared on many business doorsteps In the Philippines an unusual industry was lately reported possible following successful production from coconut shells of activated carbon suitable for use in gas masks

Cotton spindles of France are working at nearly 100 per cent capacity to meet increased home and colonial requirements In the North African colony of French Morocco a wartime cotton growing industry is being accelerated It was from this possession that the famous Moroccan division of the French army came during the first World war

In Yugoslavia Germany is taking steps to develop potentially valuable forest resources with a view to increasing production of such naval stores as resin pitch and tar for export to the reich A manufacturing firm in India recently received a half million dollar order for steel helmets for Egyptian troops Two million acres of grassland in England have been assigned for cultivation to farmers whose activities it is officially estimated will produce annually food enough for nearly 700 000 adults and a million children

WITH men mobilized, European women are taking over civilian occupations, to become carpenters mail sorters bus driver mechanics One striking example of war-disrupted economy is found on the little Ile d'Oleron off the coast of Brittany Every ablebodied man left the island on the day of French mobilization The work from fishing and mail delivery to pharmacy and dynamo tending is now being performed by women one of whom is acting as mayor

Gasoline rationing taxes and general restrictions on motoring have resulted in a large scale European movement back to the bicycle and horse and buggy age

From Italy have come recent reports that gasoline is selling at $1 20 a gallon In the far east, Tokyo's private car owners are limited to 11 gallons a month, in Yokohama to nine gallons.

England will have fewer books to read and they will be printed on poorer quality paper, with narrow margins because of the European and Soviet-Finnish wars, which have interfered with shipments of pulp wood In normal times wood and wood products form some 80 per cent of Finland's exports about half of which go to England and Germany a substantial part of the remainder going to the rest of Scandinavia

Another minor war item is reported from Germany where ersatz materials for food and clothing were a prominent feature even of pre war economy *The once large and diverse out*put of candles has been reduced from 64 varieties to 14 the present supply to be made of paraffin mixed with hard wax instead of stearin and beeswax useful in the more essential industries of a nation at war

An indirect result of the Sino Japanese conflict has been the return to local vegetable oils (instead of American oil and electrical devices) for many of the lamps of China

AS THE warring world tightens its belt against a long siege Englishmen have been urged to breakfast on smoked mutton called mona and smeon instead of ham and bacon Germans present cards for practically all of their groceries including meat milk butter cheese, sugar tea and coffee

In Japan foreign residents are complaining of difficulties in obtaining such table products as sugar eggs milk and butter

Sale of polished rice is banned In order to conserve the diminishing stocks of this important item of Japanese diet steps are being taken to make the national rice drink of sake out of tapioca imported from south sea islands

Sugar soap and coffee are on the scarce list in Italy Coffee especially was at first not available at all and only on Feb 1st was again sold in the stores in limited quantities

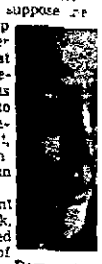
Shoes To Match

They Used To Wear 'Em To k Their Feet Warm, but Now T Make 'Em Details of a Cost

By DAMON RUNYON

WHEN you see a lady wandering from shop to shop on the street in a dazed condition pausing at intervals to stare vacantly at a store window display, you may be sure looking for shoes of a certain color to match a certain dress. Her apparently pitiable state is due to the mental turmoil she is in upon this quest.

We suppose gentlemen readers will not have a problem in finding shoes of a certain color to match a certain dress We suppose you will reflect, oh pooh! I could step out right now and fill an order like that in five minutes. That shows you how much gentlemen know about things of this nature We stand willing to make a substantial bet no gentleman can accomplish the feat, unassisted in three weeks, unless the color sought is plain white or black



Damon Runyon

Few ladies nowadays want shoes of plain white or black, unless they are old fashioned ladies whose quaint idea of shoes is as something to protect their tootsies. Most ladies want shoes of one or more of the numerous hues of the bow and nearly always to match that of the dress. The difficulty of the matching and getting the exact color tone Few gentlemen would be equal to that situation thought it is a good thing if all gentlemen were to be confronted

They would then realize that ladies is not all beer and skittles—weaker sex often has to undergo ordeals of the most bitter nature We think the appropriate lesson for the gentlemen would be a requirement of finding a pair of shoes of a certain shade of pink matching the color of a certain dress If not pink then gray The nerve wracker too

WHEN we speak of ladies footwear as a problem we are just using a term of convenience and common understanding among gentlemen who do not realize that ladies no longer wear shoes. They wear mules, slippers, sandals pumps, sling backs sneakers oxfords, flats wedges but not shoes The last lady to wear shoes in this country was Miss Jeanne Eagels in Rain and she was only play acting

Mules are what ladies start out with in the morning and end up with at night just before hitting the hay Mules are foot covering house wear and they have remarkable effects on a hard floor A lady in mules can make more racket than a percheron gaited over a tin roof a circumstance which has advantages in that she can never sneak up on you Mules are secured to the feet only at the toes, leaving the heels loose and loud Moreover they are undoubtedly a great convenience to the ladies in the matter of putting on and taking off and they are excellent for training young puppies

In their footgear the ladies are tending more and more back to the ancient days of Greece and Rome when open sandals were the vogue Exposed toes would appear to be in unity with Platform slippers and sling-backs are pure bunion removed from Cleopatra's well calculated clogs A sling-back is something that has a sling around the heel to keep the shoe on

WE USED to think the open toe shoes must be unsanitary but we are told by women such is not the case They tell us that the contrary the circulation of ozone is dear to germ life and the exercise of wiggling the toes that the open toes permits is helpful Of course the ozone must be pure to get best results

Wedges are something new It strikes us are something of a throwback to the old Chinese custom of compressing the foot into as small a compass as possible though we are informed that wedges entail none of the pain and discomfort of the ancient packing We understand that wedges are a great solace to ladies who like to have their feet appear small

Among gentlemen there are two distinct schools of thought on the size of ladies feet Some like them small Others prefer them not large at least commodious, though of course no gentleman likes to see a lady with feet that suggest lifeboats. Personally we fancy a foot about medium but rather to the large side than the small

WE THINK a lady's feet should be petted to provide her with a good wide foundation so she will not tire easily washing the dishes It has been our observation that ladies with tiny feet twinkling in and out like two mice as the authors say soon get fatigued They prefer sitting down to stand up and the consequence is more work for the old gent

Anecdotes of Ohio

By GILBERT F DODDS

So frequently did John Morgan's Confederate raiders substitute their jaded horses for fresh animals stabled in southern Ohioans pastures when Morgan was finally captured Penn the Louisville Journal suggested a one gun military salute should be fired each stable door

Ohioans rejoiced at the news of Morgan's capture after being terror-stricken by the raiders daring in the early summer of 1863

Poorly-dressed the raiders were near exhaustion as they accosted civilian dwellers roads and emptied stables for fresh mounts General Hobson and his horsemen captured Morgan so hotly that it was said he had to start burning only a few of the public buildings in his wake It was his worst defeat

Although Morgan escaped Hobson's men he was captured shortly afterward by a rearguard of raids the U S army organized riders at every Ohio river town.

Some of the counties most heavily populated by migrants show decrease in births.

Moral Embargo Won't Be Lifted Despite Peace Ending Finnish War

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON March 14—With President Roosevelt indicating unofficially that the future of Finland's future the United States will continue to regard Russia warily for some time

This became apparent today when it was learned from a reliable source that the moral embargo against Russia imposed by Mr Roosevelt and the state department after the Soviet invasion of Finland would be maintained indefinitely regardless of the Baltic peace

The President laid down the moral embargo on the shipment of airplanes and parts to Russia early in December This was later amplified by the state department to include materials going into the manufacture of airplanes

No move to lift any of these embargoes will be made for some time it was learned because

1 Officials are not sure that Russia will not again move against Finland weakened by the peace terms as Germany did against Czecho Slovakia weakened by the dismemberment of the Sudetenland

2 Nor are they sure that Russia now that her hands are freed by the peace treaty with Finland will not move against other nations

3 Nor are they sure that materials sent to Russia are not going through to Germany

President Roosevelt's concern over the Finnish situation was expressed in a statement issued by the White House late yesterday He said

The ending of this war does not yet clarify the inherent right of small nations to the maintenance of their integrity against attack by superior force

The people of Finland by their unexcelled valor and strong resistance in the face of overwhelming armed forces have won the moral right to live in everlasting peace and independence in the land they have so bravely defended

MARYSVILLE TRIAL ENTERS FOURTH DAY

More State Witnesses Heard in Vending Machine Case.

No Idle Threat Seen in Italian Defense Stand

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Of high importance—especially with all Europe in ferment over the Russo-Finnish peace and its potentialities—is Italian Undersecretary Soddu's announcement that Italy is ready to defend its territory of action with a million trained men under arms and with a fortified bulwark across its Alpine frontiers

The general added that the frontier defenses facing both Germany and France had been strengthened That's making this sort of caution cut both ways

This supplements accidentally or otherwise the tee straight from the shoulder message which Nazi Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop is understood to have taken back to Fuehrer Hitler from Signor Mussolini earlier this week—that Italy will stay out of war so long as the Fascist chief considers it advantageous

Il Duce Is Free Lancing

What these two announcements amount to is that Il Duce—who is a very practical man—is free lancing And he will fight to maintain his prerogatives You couldn't ask for a more blunt definition of policy though you probably would like more details

Nor belligerency happens to be the course of both wisdom and preference Wisdom dictates that Il Duce refrain from being rough with powerful Hitler whose troops look down on Italy from the Brenner pass, and cautions him against ravishing England and France enough to draw French troops across his border and set the Anglo French navies to blockading his almost never ending coast lines

On the preference side there are several important items As a non belligerent Mussolini can set his merchant marine to sailing the seven seas picking up profitable markets which formerly belonged to the combatants

Trades With Both

He can trade with both belligerents—and the allies often pay in hard cash He can work on his ambitious plan of establishing politico economic influence in the Balkans

In short while the other major powers of Europe are doing a fine job of burning up their economic resources in war Il Duce is trying to make Italy prosperous And he is bent on keeping war away from the Balkans and the Mediterranean

of Norway said his country agreed several days ago to consider the possibility of such an alliance

These northern neighbors already have agreed to talk it over at Finland's initiative Tanner said although they refused such an overture when the war was in progress

To the mourning public of Finland which lost thousands of its sons and much of its wealth in the futile struggle against invasion the government broadcast plea for continuing in peace the cooperation and unity that was so characteristic in war

That epic struggle the government said was now just another chapter of history and Finland must turn to the task of restoring her ruined cities and humble homes laid in embers by Soviet bombing planes

Arms Starts Retreat

The grim little Finnish army prepared for the step by step withdrawal from its snowy battle fronts as provided for both in the Russian fraudulent peace terms

First withdrawal a minimum of 7 kilometers (about 4 3 mile) is scheduled tomorrow in the Lieksa area with similar retreats to follow in other sectors on a schedule that calls for the last removal from the Petsamo area April 10

Foreign Minister Tanner indicated that the formality of ratification by the Finnish diet might not come for several weeks

Thanks[ful] for Help

Tanner told newspaper men that Great Britain and France had not pressed Finland to continue the war He expressed thanks for large quantities of war material they supplied although they had no obligation to Finland and added his gratitude for the volunteers and financial help from America

(Shortly before the peace was made Britain and France offered to send Finland 50 000 men Previously a French spokesman had warned that a settlement such as Finland now has made would lay her open to the same obliteration which befell Czechoslovakia at Germany's hands after the surrender of Sudetenland)

Tanner himself said yesterday that Finland's yielding was the fault of our being forsaken by our fellow democracies

In similar vein the said old Finnish Field Marshal Baron Carl Gustaf Mannerheim declared in his final order of the day that Finland had paid to the very last penny any debt we may have owed to the we

Another study was made of gateways to the city It showed that South Main was the most popular with 507 cars Bellefontaine avenue was least traveled with 58 cars

Truck traffic was estimated at 9 4 per cent of the total volume at the gateways of state and federal route Nearly two thirds of the trucks were over five tons in weight and thus cumbersome and slow

Another part of the volume count dealt with the origin and destination of through traffic Eight locations were manned for 24 hour periods during which 3 060 vehicles entered the city Of these 1 175 or 5 6 per cent left the city within the 24 hours The period of time in which the vehicles remained in town varied from 15 minutes (the normal time for crossing Marion) to several hours

Based on what a report terminal charge averages it was estimated the through traffic spent $2 823 in Marion in the 24 hours It was divided as follows $618 for food and lodging $1 755 for merchandise and $219 for fuel and oil

If added in the total was $621 or 22 per cent of the total spent by trucks The reports authors say it is logical to presume that the economic value of truck traffic is negligible

At another place the authors refer to the oft mistaken idea that this traffic (all through traffic) stimulates business in the central section

Vehicled density on various streets was also studied In a 12-hour period the flow in Center street in both directions varied from 10 391 cars between Orchard and Oak streets to 1 838 west of Madison avenue On Church street the volume varied from 8 679 cars between High and State to 710 west of Merchant On Davids street the volume was 5 093 cars north of Buckeye On Main street the volume varied from 8 301 south of Mill street to 1 301 just south of Fairground

Relief Director Frank S Burns who was in Columbus yesterday conferring with department leaders understands that one of the purposes of the meeting will be to attempt to bring about greater efficiency cooperation in the handling of relief and to cut down the relief load if possible

Spirits Won't Talk, So Magician Quits Darrow Retreat

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO March 14—Claude Noble a magician stood on a bleak bridge in Jackson park held out a hymn book and called upon the spirit of Clarence Darrow to manifest itself if it could

Hopelessly he stood in silence for a full minute A bird squeaked in a naked tree and outside the park the hum of the city's traffic rose and fell Then he turned to the newspaper men and said No manifestation

It's been the same story for more than 25 years

Noble who came from his home in Detroit to conduct the experiment yesterday said magicians had been trying to get a glimpse into the great beyond since the days of Conte

Herman the Great Houdini and then Harry Keller Houdini and Howard Thurston Now it's Noble's turn and when he's dead he said Blackstone would carry on or Dante in Europe

There are always arrangements made beforehand In the case of Darrow the great criminal lawyer and agnostic they were agreed upon at a meeting in a Detroit hotel three years ago

Just a year ago yesterday on the first anniversary of Darrow's death Noble conducted his experiment in the hotel room where the pact was made This year he chose the bridge over the lagoon into which Darrow's ashes were strewn

Darrow had promised to try to agitate the book so that would fall from Noble's hand The magician trembled but nothing stirred the book not even the wind

Renew Efforts To Raise Rehabilitation Funds

By The Associated Press

Residents of Finnish communities in Ohio generally were shocked by the Russian peace terms and opinions varied widely on the ultimate effect of the proposals

Renewed efforts were made immediately to raise additional relief money now expected to be diverted into a rehabilitation fund

In Columbus Eugene Van Cleef state chairman of the Finnish relief fund renewed his appeal for contributions

Many of the Finnish people lived in the territory Russia has taken over and need new homes he said The costs of resettlement and repairing the damage caused by bombing raids are greater than the Finns can bear alone

Dr P J Collander Finnish vice consul at Ashtabula said shocked Finnish residents here would continue relief work Those in the community estimated at nearly 5 000 already have sent $11 400 to Finland

John Holkka leader of 1 000 Finnish inhabitants in Conneaut said most men are giving one days pay a month to relief and this would be continued The community received the peace news with a sense of shock at the price demanded for cessation of hostilities

Disatisfaction with the peace terms sympathy for their countrymen and the belief that the terms may be turned down by the government were expressed by residents of the Fairport Finnish colony

Harvard Ringers Win in Boston Glamor Contest

By The Associated Press

BOSTON March 14 — The victory laurel in Boston's heralded tournament of glamor—scheduled as a contest between professional models and debutantes — were carted off today by a team of ringers from Harvard

Four heavily rouged bewigged representatives of Harvard Hasty Pudding club horned in on the tourney just as post time last night and after a dainty display of hairy chests and long flowing gown won the unanimous nod of the judges

The debs 10 girl team protested the decision vehemently

What have the Harvard boys got that we don't have? cried blond Lucy Cochran

The models team of 10 substituted for a unit headed by Miss Ruth Allen who started the whole thing made no comment Miss Allen withdrew her team after claiming the judges committee was being packed in favor of the debbies

She issued the challenge to the debs originally to support the professional models effort to win legislative favor for a plan of registration similar to that for nurses and other professional workers That project seemed to have been lost in the shuffle at least temporarily as Harvard added another trophy to its memorabilia

Hank Looks Good in Field

What's More, the Ex-First Baseman Likes New Job for Detroit Gang.

By The Associated Press

LAKELAND Fla March 14—Though the complete returns will not be until about July 4 it may be said at this point that Hank Greenberg looks surprisingly good in left field for the Detroit Tigers and that he likes his new job better every day he plays it

Also it can be reported that the Tigers look like a better ball club now that the big guy is roaming the outfield and Rudy York at last is in possession of first base the one and only spot he can play really well Manage Del Baker appears to have solved one of the most vexing problems that ever confronted a big league pilot

Greenberg

Honest I like playing outfield more than I had any idea I would said Greenberg as he trotted to the bench rivulets of sweat rolling down his face I'm not missing the first base at all and I think maybe I'll do all right out there

One thing that's helping me a lot is that I can handle ground balls better than a lot of outfielders Did you realize that an outfielder gets more ground balls to handle than he does flies? I've been stopping grounders all my life so I'm not afraid to come in and try to trap a lot of balls that the other fellows stay back and take on the bound

Later, watching Greenberg sprint around out there for nine innings he looked like he had been telling the truth He easily hauled down every fly that came his way chased those that went past him enthusiastically and pegged the ball in hard and true

Despite his 6 feet 3½ inches and 210 pounds Hank is neither slow nor awkward He doesn't look like he's moving so fast, but those long legs take him over the ground He won't have any trouble covering the short left field in Detroit at least and is not likely to disgrace himself anywhere else

So with Greenberg and York in there swinging one two every day the Tigers feel they can't help being a little tougher than they were last year Even though they face the possible loss of Charlie Gehringer veteran second baseman from accumulated ills and has Benny McCoy and Roy Cullenbine snatched from them by Judge Landis during the winter they are not feeling downcast

Mrs. Dougherty did turn the ... upside down, but when ... was back in place, ... marveled. By sheer dint of ... persuasion, the housekeeper had ... Ole Abe, Pierre and Allen ... the woodwork cream. "So ... can see when it's dirty."

When they refused to paper the ... room, Tomi's room, and her own, she had shamed them into it by starting the job herself.

Tomi, working nearby, and watching, laughed inwardly at the constant warfare between Allen and Pierre. The huge purple roses on the living room wall had given way to indistinct plaid, but some of the seams didn't match because Allen had decreed his should go one way, and Pierre decreed another.

And then, on her birthday morning, Tomi awakened to a peaceful world. Her one personal extravagance had been the razing of the wall between her bedroom and the next room. Now the rising sun streamed in on a scene of order and beauty. The walls were soft green to offset the glare of the sun, ruffled curtains of cream and rose-amber repeated their color in cushions, spreads, pillow and dressing-table flounce.

No Sign of Life

Tomi looked a bit incongruous as she dressed in breeches, high boots and mannish shirt. Pierre was going after a major market in Sacramento that day, and she must help on the farm.

The frogs were ready to spawn. With Abe, she must lift the pairs from their old pens and carry them to the new pools, now filled with silt, water lilies, hyacinths, water cress, and odd logs and stumps set in the water; solids to which the eggs would adhere.

Tomi allowed herself a few moments of heartache. A year ago she had come down to breakfast to find presents piled beside her plate, and Great-aunt Hannah had ordered hot biscuits and honey as a special feature of celebration.

Great-aunt Hannah had evidently forgotten the day, this year. The others didn't know it was her birthday.

Then, outside, she forgot to feel sad. One couldn't on such a morning. The irises were stalks of royal purple, snow white, pale blue, and edging them were rows of daffodils. A single rose, white petaled, pink hearted, had braved the April weather.

At first Abe worked beside her. He had his teeth now and was tremendously proud of them.

And then Tomi realized Abe was no longer there. She called and there was no answer. A few minutes later she went to the house. Everything was in perfect order. But there was no sign of life.

Puzzled, Tomi went on to her office, to place an item in her daily cash book. It wasn't there. Startled, she hurried through her desk to find her other books had disappeared.

She ran upstairs, calling for Dotty. There was no answer. Her bed was neatly made; the housedress she had worn that morning was on a hanger.

"Allen Bartell's up to something," she cried, frightened, and hurried down to the telephone.

"Allen Bartell's office; Miss Carter speaking," came the response to her call.

"Mr. Bartell, please," begged Tomi.

"He is in court this morning."

"Which court? Where can I find him?" pleaded Tomi.

"Who is this speaking?" asked the voice.

Tomi hesitated, then quickly she gave her mother's maiden name. "Mimi de Ment," she answered.

"Mr. Bartell is in Superior Court No. 10, the Toland will contest."

The receiver slid from Tomi's fingers. The will was being contested and she hadn't been told. Who was bringing the contest?

Swiftly she ran to the next room to sift through the evening papers for the court calendar. There it was in bold black and white:

To show cause by Timothy Toland's last will and testament should not be set aside. Hannah Toland, John Toland...

They were all there, the names of every member of the Toland family.

Tomi moved through the house. She went from room to room. Critically, she paused at the door of the living room and found it charming, every color, line and group to her liking. Even the bowl of glowing nasturtiums with a shaft of sunlight turning them vibrant with life, was properly placed.

This had been her own, this house, this farm, this life. Now they were trying to take it from her.

And they weren't giving her a chance to fight for it. "Why?" she wondered. "Are they all in together? I don't really know any of them."

The Tolands

She curled into a sun-warmed spot on the divan. "Maybe they are right. If I could hire them without investigation . . . Bartell didn't approve of Dotty, nor of Pierre, but neither did he approve of my purchasing the car. And Dotty is an old friend, his old nurse, and Pierre a fraternity brother.

"But Abe—" She couldn't accept Abe for anything but what he had appeared to be.

Perhaps, however, Abe loved the frogs more than he felt loyalty to her.

And then Tomi knew what she must do.

She sped to her room to change to a brown linen suit, brown linen shoes and a brown linen hat which shaded her face. She must wear something inconspicuous and sit far back in the courtroom.

At least they'd left her car. She imagined Bartell had picked up the others at the highway.

She spent a moment studying an Oakland map, then jumped into her car. It was ten-thirty. Swiftly she traversed High Street, found the main highway on the Oakland shore and drove along it until Lake Merrit lay below, and beyond the narrow end of its blue waters, the towering white courthouse.

It was eleven-five when a bailiff slipped her into the courtroom. The audience seats were filled, excepting for one, near a corner. Tomi hurried to it, then lapsed into the quiet of the room.

Allen Bartell was seated at a long table. Ranged beside him were Pierre, Dotty and Old Abe. She stifled a giggle when she discovered Old Abe had been put through a hair-cut and a mustache trim. Dotty looked like a society dowager, a bit bored by this unnecessary personal appearance of hers.

Tomi jumped with nervousness when a man opposite turned around. He was Austin Toland; Austin, looking very Toland in frock coat and gray trousers, his eye-glasses polished until they looked like twin suns. She felt just a little bit proud of him.

Two strange men sat with him. Tomi looked around. The rest of the family had evidently remained in Chicago. But no! Her heart jumped until she felt she must hold it with both hands. There was the Major!

Major John was approaching the witness stand like a commander leading an unseen army to battle. Impressive, suggestive of power, he raised his hand to be sworn, clicked his heels, all but saluted the jury, and sat down.

Austin Toland arose. "Major Toland, you have charged the present legatee, Tomi Toland, incompetent. Kindly tell the jury upon what you base this charge."

The Major cleared his throat pompously. "Temperament," he pronounced. "She has not the temperament to handle such a project in an efficient businesslike manner. For instance, at the age of eleven — by Jove, that was eleven years ago this day—I gave her twenty-five cents. Gentlemen, do you know what she did with it?"

The jury leaned forward, Tomi leaned back. She pulled the brown linen hat farther over her eyes and wished she hadn't worn the yellow blouse. It was too conspicuous. Suppose someone saw her. Inwardly she writhed. She knew, even before the Major continued.

"She purchased ten cents worth of sugar; fifteen cents worth of lemons, added two gallons of water and a quart of my best claret. And then, gentlemen, she erected a sidewalk stand and sold the concocton at ten cents a glass to all comers."

8 ET 40 PLANS BENEFIT AT MT. GILEAD MEETING

A benefit card party in the near future was discussed by members of Marion Salon No. 251, 8 et 40, at a meeting Monday night at the American Legion quarters in Mt. Gilead. Reports were given on the annual conference March 3 in Columbus. The group voted an Easter gift to children of the Jewish home in Colorado and to provide a basket of foodstuffs at Easter for a needy Marion veteran's family. A report on child welfare work was given by Mrs. Mary Napier, chairman. A letter was read from Mrs. Jean Piehn of Los Angeles, a member. The salon will send birthday greetings to the national chapeau, Mrs. Ellen Louise Warren of Washington, D. C. A special award was won by Mrs. Wilhelmina Rizor. Lunch was served at a table decorated in keeping with St. Patrick's day.

A New York state man is experimenting with flavoring melons with various wines, which are fed from bottles of the wines through wicks to the melons as they grow.

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Scruffy Hands

THE OLD ladies used to say along about this time of year that they would clear up Pap's scruffy hands and Aunt Minnie's sore tongue as soon as "I kin git me out and pick me a mess o' greens." Behind that homely wisdom is a whole volume of scientific lore on nutrition.

The situation does not come up as often now as it used to, but still we have reports that spring deficiency diseases go on, and I would warrant after the hard winter we have had in the south this year there will be quite a crop of them.

You won't need to take any precautions about them if you have been following my Lenten Reducing Diet, because that contains the protective elements, so this article is for the others.

The scruffy hands and the sore tongue are mentioned by me especially because the disease called "pellagra," which is a sort of hodge-podge of deficiency food conditions, is the result of a diet of preserved food with no fresh food elements. It was at one time as serious a health problem in the south as malaria and hookworm. From reports made in medical journals from Tennessee and Alabama, I gather it is still a problem.

In most of our cities, and even villages, it is not so often seen because modern methods of transportation and preservation of food have given us a winter-long supply of fresh meat, freshly made bread, potatoes, green vegetables and fruits. In rural communities, where people are living on salt pork, corn pone and sorghum molasses, it still occurs with considerable frequency.

It can be prevented and it will respond in treatment to a diet of fresh meat and potatoes.

MARCH

AP Feature Service

"BEWARE the Ides of March," the soothsayer warned Caesar—and on March 15 Caesar was assassinated. In recent years March again has had an ominous ring because another conqueror has chosen that month for spectacular deeds increasing his country's might. Those deeds, especially the seizure of Czechoslovakia just a year ago, led to the European war. What will Hitler do in 1940? He himself may not know. But in considering the possibilities, military men point out that the end of winter makes possible large-scale fighting on the western front—and just 22 years ago this month, Germany launched her last big drive of the World War.

NEW COURSE STUDIED FOR COUNTY SCHOOLS

Educators To Discuss Plans for Study of Citizenship.

Discussion of plans for a course in practical citizenship in the county schools will be opened tonight when Supt. D. T. Mills, the county schools' education committee and two prominent Ohio colleges educators meet at the home of Mr. Mills at 7 o'clock.

Dr. Maurice J. Neuberg of the personnel department at Wittenberg college and Dr. Herbert A. Toops of Ohio State university's psychology department will join in the discussion.

The education committee includes Supt. V. L. Anderson of Morral, Supt. Ivan Barnhart of Green Camp, Supt. Paul Templo of Meeker and Supt. Gail Ferris of Scott township.

Explaining the proposed course, Mr. Mills commented that the county school leaders have long believed that the present courses in social science and civics have not been "doing their job" and that the need is recognized for developing in boys and girls a sensitivity to their civic responsibilities. The purpose of such a course would be to show the students how to live fully under democratic forms of government.

Adding Glitter to Menu

For that next party or big occasion, how about a gold cake with a gold filling and a gold frosting? Florida Gold Cake is the sort of confection that casts a glow wherever it shines.

For the cake, use one and three-fourths cups flour, two teaspoons phosphate baking powder, one-half cup milk, one-half cup shortening, one cup sugar, one whole egg, four egg yolks, one-half cup milk and one-half teaspoon lemon extract. Sift flour, measure, sift again with baking powder and salt. Cream shortening well, add sugar gradually; cream until light and fluffy. Add slightly-beaten egg and the four egg yolks; beat, add flour alternately with milk, a little at a time, beating after each addition. Add flavoring. Bake in two greased layer-cake pans in 375 degrees F. oven 25-30 minutes. When cool, spread orange filling between layers, and frost.

Orange Filling: Combine five tablespoons flour, one cup sugar, one-half cup orange juice, one-half cup water, one egg, two teaspoons butter, teaspoon grated orange rind. Cook in double boiler until thick (about 10 minutes), stirring constantly. Orange Butter Frosting: Blend two cups powdered sugar and four tablespoons of butter. Add a bit of salt, one-fourth cup orange juice and one-half teaspoon grated orange rind. Beat; spread on cake.

Beige Parfait

Beige is to be a fashionable spring color, so why not a beige dessert? Beige Parfait is easily made, and it is an effective company dinner dessert. Boil together one cup freshly-made, double-strength coffee and one cup sugar for about 10 minutes. Beat four eggs slightly with a fork, then add the coffee syrup slowly, beating constantly. Cook in a double boiler until mixture thickens, then cool. When cold, fold in one-half pint stiffly-beaten cream. Place in refrigerator trays and freeze for about six hours. Serves eight, so it is not an expensive dessert.

Apple Sherbet will decorate dinner, giving emphasis to a simple meal. Make it with one cup evaporated milk, two tablespoons lemon juice, two cups sweetened apple sauce, chilled, and a dash of nutmeg. Whip milk very stiff. Fold in lemon juice, apple sauce, and nutmeg. Pour at once into cold freezing trays. This will yield two pints.

Rhubarb Sherbet

Very soon rhubarb will arrive, the advance guard of spring. Rhubarb Sherbet makes a delicious dish to tone up late winter menus. Use two and one-half cups sliced rhubarb, one No. 2 can crushed pineapple, one-half cup sugar, one tall can evaporated milk, chilled, and one-eighth teaspoon mace or nutmeg, if desired. Wash rhubarb. Remove blemishes but do not peel. Cut into small pieces. Combine with sugar and pineapple and simmer until tender or bake in a moderate oven, in a buttered baking dish. Press through a course sieve. There should be two cups pulp and syrup. Chill. Whip milk very stiff. Fold in rhubarb mixture. Pour at once into cold freezing trays. Yield: about three pints.

Pies To Go with Coffee

"PIE AND COFFEE, please," is the most frequently given dessert order in restaurants, according to a recent survey. If you are a doubting Thomas, then conduct your own survey. The chances are you'll find out for yourself that men — yesterday, today and tomorrow—like pie and coffee. So try them on these good pies.

Grape Cream Meringue is novel and delightful. The meringue shell is made with one-eighth teaspoon salt, two egg whites, two-thirds cup sugar, one-fourth teaspoon vinegar, one-fourth teaspoon vanilla. Add salt to egg whites and beat until foamy throughout. Add sugar gradually, beating after each addition until sugar is thoroughly blended. Continue beating until mixture is very stiff and will stand in peaks. Spread evenly over bottom and sides of well-buttered nine-inch pie plate, swirling mixture around the edge of the plate. Bake in 275 degrees F. oven 40 to 45 minutes. Cool. Yield: one nine-inch meringue shell.

Filling for Pie

For the filling use two and one-half teaspoons gelatin, one-fourth cup water, one cup grape juice, one-fourth cup sugar, teaspoon lemon juice, one-eighth teaspoon salt and one cup heavy cream. Soften gelatin in water for five minutes; place over hot water until quite dissolved. Cool to lukewarm at room temperature. Combine grape juice, sugar, lemon juice and salt, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Add small amount of gelatin, stirring until blended. Next combine with remaining grape juice mixture. Chill until syrupy. Beat cream until thick and shiny but not stiff. Fold into grape juice mixture. Chill until slightly thickened. Serve plain or garnish with unsweetened whipped cream and seeded white grapes.

Banana Whipped Cream

Banana Whipped Cream Pie, food for the gods but not for dieters, is made with two tablespoons sugar, few drops almond or vanilla extract, one cup whipping cream (whipped) four to five ripe bananas and one baked nine-inch shell. Use ripe bananas. Fold sugar and flavoring into the whipped cream. Peel and slice bananas into pie shell. Top with whipped cream. Garnish with additional banana slices if desired.

Pecan Syrup Pie is made with three slightly beaten eggs, one cup sugar, one cup dark corn syrup, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one-half to one cup pecan meats, coarsely chopped, and one recipe pastry. Mix all ingredients, add nutmeats last. Pour into pie pan or eight-inch square shallow pan which has been lined with pastry. Place in hot oven (450 degrees F.) about 10 minutes. Reduce to 325 degrees F. and bake until filling is firm, about 50 minutes. At end of 40 minutes, insert silver knife in filling; pie is done when knife comes out clean.

HOUSE NEAR RIDGEWAY IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Special to The Star

KENTON, March 14 — Damage of more than $5,000 resulted yesterday when fire, starting from a spark on the roof, destroyed the Charles Daniels farm home, near Ridgeway, together with practically all of its contents. Miss Carrie Daniels, who keeps house for her father and two brothers, was preparing the noon meal when the fire was discovered. Volunteers, aided by the Mt. Victory fire department, were unable to control the flames. Loss is partially covered by insurance.

A tool has been invented to enable archers to attach metal tips and nocks to arrows by turning a wheel that crimps the metal into the wood.

California Democrats Row Over Roosevelt Backing

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, March 14—Contests of delegates, both favoring a third term for President Roosevelt, may be placed before Democratic voters in the California presidential primary election because of a political storm centering about Gov. Culbert L. Olson.

Such a split would increase Vice President Garner's chances of winning the delegation and repeating his 1932 victory, when he carried the state primary over Mr. Roosevelt and Alfred E. Smith. Later the 44 Garner delegates helped assure Mr. Roosevelt of the presidential nomination when they switched their support to him in the national convention.

A committee is active in behalf of the vice president, who is the only candidate entered in California against the Chief Executive.

Governor Olson, against whom recall petitions are being circulated, is leading one group of Democrats seeking to elect delegates favoring Mr. Roosevelt's renomination. The ticket would be pledged to Olson with the understanding that it would support any third term move for the President.

Olson Foes Plan Action

Opponents of the governor have been considering plans to enter another slate pledged directly to Mr. Roosevelt. They have taken no definite action, but they have until March 29 to select delegates and qualify for a place on the ballot.

Secretary Ickes is enroute here apparently to bring peace between the two factions and get them to agree on a single slate.

The recall movement against Olson has complicated the situation. The Olson Recall Committee, Inc., makes ten charges against the governor in the petitions. Among them are allegations that the governor is incompetent, impractical and inefficient; has violated election pledges; has supported legislation to set up dictatorial commissions; has encouraged communistic and alien labor agitators, and has jeopardized state credit by encouraging state competition against private industry.

A recall election can be called between 60 and 80 days after signature of 12 per cent of those who voted at the last gubernatorial election are certified. The committee started an active campaign last week to get the necessary 318,176 signatures.

G.O.P. Names Slate

California Republican organizations have selected 44 delegates nominally pledged to State Senator Jerrold L. Seawell. He has agreed to release the group from voting for him so that it actually will go to the national convention uninstructed. There has been no move to qualify any particular candidate for the Republican primary, and indications are that the Seawell ticket will be unopposed.

Likewise, no Republican contest is apparent in Oregon. At present the only name put forward is that of Senator Charles L. McNary, minority leader of the senate.

As in California, the contest at the Oregon Democratic primary May 17 will be between Roosevelt and Garner. The Oregon commonwealth federation has circulated petitions to put the President's name before the voters. Charles H. Martin, former Democratic governor, has announced that he would enter Garner as a candidate.

Martin, who recently talked to the vice president in Washington, has been opposing New Deal policies although he was a supporter of the President a few years ago.

There has been no campaign activity in Washington state excepting a recent visit by Thomas Dewey of New York, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Washington selects its delegates to the national conventions at party meeting. The Democrats have not set the date for their state convention. The Republicans will meet in Tacoma on May 25.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

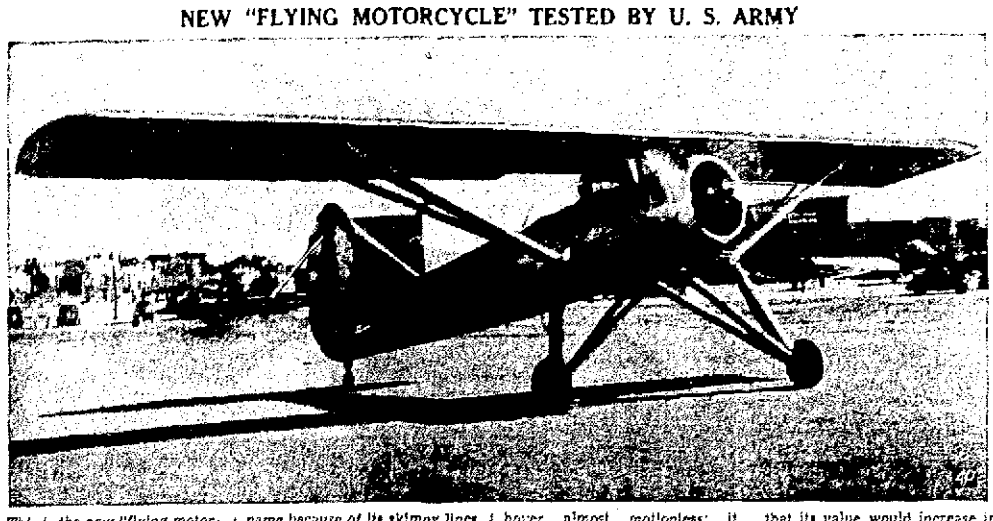
NEW "FLYING MOTORCYCLE" TESTED BY U. S. ARMY



This is the new "flying motorcycle" plane, tested at San Diego for army officials and given this name because of its skimpy lines and build, and its operation. The ship can take off in cramped space at high speed and then hover almost motionless; it comes to a full stop 10 feet after its wheels touch the ground. Officials pointed out that its value would increase in war times, when space for taking off and landing would be greatly restricted.

Here Professor Montet is shown with the outer sarcophagus in the tomb prior to the opening.

SALVATION SUBJECT AT FOREST LAWN MISSION

"The Great Salvation" was the subject of Rev. J. A. Carriker last night at one of the series of preaching mission services at Forest Lawn Presbyterian church. Rev. Carriker, pastor, spoke in the absence of Rev. T. M. Patterson of Crestline who will return tonight at 7:30 to speak on "Barns and Visions."

Rev. Carriker described salvation as great because it took a great God to give it, because it took a great sacrifice to make it possible, because it took great pardon to free man from sin, because it gives great deliverance from all evil and because it is complete, setting man free.

The choir-chorus led singing and presented a special song, "Wonderful Words of Life."

WASHINGTON, March 14—Albert S. Goss has resigned as federal farm bank commissioner of the farm credit administration. His action had been generally expected since the agency was transferred to the agriculture department's control. President Roosevelt accepted the resignation "with regret" yesterday.

A number of high officials of the FCA have quit lately because of differences over the credit policy inaugurated by the new governor, A. G. Black, with Secretary Wallace's approval.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

I an Forces Madge To Eat Before Rehearsing Mary.

Yo up my hands in mock ...ion at Lillian's question ...e haven't eaten." I said ... per has anybody else I ... to have a late luncheon today, because I was afraid Philip Veritzen's visit might interfere with Mary's late rehearsal."

"You mean you wanted to be sure he wouldn't stay for luncheon," she gibed.

"Neither would you," I said belligerently, "if you had to get Mary through that final rehearsal without her going to pieces. She's nervous enough as it is without sitting through a luncheon with her father-in-law."

"You've said too much," she retorted with a grin. "All you needed for the perfect retort was 'Neither would you.' Luncheon with Philip Veritzen at this particular time is just one of those things I would loathe, although there are occasions when I would love eating with him. So you don't need to make any apologies. But if you think I'm going to let you get away with rehearsing Mary without something in both your little tum tums first, you have two, three more thinks coming."

Luncheon for Two

I knew there was no use arguing with her, so I promptly capitulated.

"All right," I said. "But I warn you I won't take time to come down to the dining room and eat luncheon with the family."

"Who's asking you to?" she demanded. "Some day, my girl, I'm going to cure that brashness of yours, if I have to chop down a hickory tree to get a suitable paddle. Go on up now, waken Mary and get her in shape for the rehearsal. In the meantime I'll tackle Katie and tell her you want to turn her sitting room into a stage and that you and Mary want luncheon trays sent up to you. You know what she's going to say, don't you?"

Problem Child

Indeed I do," I returned laughing, "and I'm glad you're managing that girl. She's going to emulate Mother Graham in her strictures that her sitting room isn't fit for a pig to root in, let alone her Misses Graham and Mees Mary. She'll want to come up and start to clean house, but if you let her up the back stairs for more than two minutes by the clock—I—I'll do something to you. I haven't thought it out yet."

"Save your brain," she advised acidly. "I'll manage Katie. Have you any preference in luncheon dishes, or has Mary?"

"Plenty of hot tea for both of us," I returned promptly, "and then anything light. Katie knows what we both like—and dislike. But nothing heavy."

"I'll see that she doesn't give you corned beef and cabbage," she promised with a laugh as she turned toward the stairs. "Au revoir! Come down to that window seat outside your father's room as soon as you're through with Mary. If the Chief already has sent for us I'll be watching for you through the keyhole, and see that you get in."

Lillian Takes Over

"Wait a minute!" I said breathlessly as a sudden recollection came to me. "Will you keep a weather eye on Edith while I'm up with Mary? She's in my room asleep, and I promised her that when she awakened I'd talk things over with her. She was in a self-flagellating mood just before I gave her a sedative and some hot milk, and, frankly, I didn't want to listen to her."

"She might have told you something you could have held over her head as blackmail," Lillian said in such convincing fashion and with so straight a face that suddenly the blessed relief of laughter came to ease the tension of my nerves.

"I hadn't thought of that," I said. "But I haven't time to do anything about it now. If she wakens, will you tell her I'm detained, and will see her later?"

"I'll do that little thing," she said. "I'll also scout around in fashion to find out what's cooking up to-night if she's working any double-cross we don't want to be caught in her toils, which you can address any remarks pro or con."

Reichardt Picked on All-N.C.O. Cage Team; Mt. Vernon Lands Two Stars

Shelby and Ashland Each Place One; Hudson, Roberts Also Honored.

RUSSELL REICHARDT, currently Marion Harding's outstanding all-around athlete, was named to a first string berth on the mythical All-NCO basketball team, selected during a confab of sports writers at Bucyrus last night.

Two other Marion players received recognition. Dale Hudson won a place on the second team and Johnny Roberts was among the honorable mention list. All are seniors.

All-N. C. O. Basketball Team for 1940

FIRST TEAM	Pos.	SECOND TEAM
Vince Barr, Ashland (Sr.)	F.	Dale Hudson, Marion (Sr.)
Bill Crumrine, Mt. Vernon (Sr.)	F.	James Secrest, Galion (Sr.)
Jake Givens, Mt. Vernon (Sr.)	C.	Robert Ransom, Mt. V. (Soph.)
Russell Reichardt, Marion (Sr.)	G.	Bob Howell, Ashland (Jr.)
Bob Lehman, Shelby (Sr.)	G.	Carson Kanode, Bucyrus (Jr.)

Honorable mention—Harold Lore of Mt. Vernon and Walter Michael of Bucyrus, forwards; John Roberts of Marion, center; Bill Dertschi of Galion, Bob Daugherty of Shelby and Bob Atterholt of Ashland, guards.

Mt. Vernon, league champions, placed two members on the varsity line-up and the remaining spots went to Ashland and Shelby.

The entire first string line-up is composed of seniors and includes two members who gained a similar rating last year. Reichardt, chosen as one of the league's best defensive men, and Vince Barr of Ashland are the repeaters. Barr set a new league scoring record.

Givens at Center

Jake Givens, the six-foot-five Mt. Vernon pivotman, got the center berth. His teammate, Bill Crumrine, was nominated for the guard spot opposite Reichardt.

Only three lower classmen managed to earn places on the second team. Mt. Vernon's Pete Ransom, a sophomore, took the center post and a pair of juniors, Bob Howell of Ashland and Carson Kanode of Bucyrus, were picked as guards. Opposite Marion's Hudson at the forward is Jimmy Secrest of Galion.

All the local trio previously received recognition in the selection of mythical teams. Reichardt, getting the honor for the second straight year, was named to the all-tournament team at Delaware last week. Earlier he had received all-Ohio honorable mention. At the close of the grid season last fall he won an All-NCO rating.

Won Other Honors

Hudson, a repeater in his second string slot, got honorable mention on the all-tourney roster. Roberts rated a second team place in all-tourney nominations and last fall filled a varsity position on the All-NCO football squad.

John Young, sports editor of the Bucyrus Telegraph-Forum, was host to the writers for last night's session. Those participating in the selections of the All-NCO teams are Mr. Young, Bill McKee of the Ashland Times-Gazette, Walter Goshorn of the Galion Enquirer, Spiv Harris of the Mt. Vernon News, Bob Boreman of the Shelby Globe and Charles Hostetler of The Marion Star.

Queen of the Ping Pong Tables

Feminine as an afternoon bridge club—but fierce—is one expert's description of pretty Miss Emily Fuller (above) of New York, undisputed queen of the country's ping pong tables. Eight years ago her big brother turned thumbs down when she tried to elbow her way into a game with him and his pals. Not tough enough, he said. Today she still can't get a game with him, but now it's for another reason. Miss Fuller is a cinch to win her fourth title this spring.

Featherweight — Dan Mathews (127) vs. Eddie Johnson (124), both of Marion. Mathews is the lightweight champion of 1936 and runner-up in the same division last year. He pounded out a technical knockout against Sam Walker of Crestline in his only fight this year. Johnson is a colored kayo artist. He whipped Bernard Rawls and Marion Jones, both of Crestline, winning each time with second-round technical knockouts.

Lightweight—Ray Forbis (135) of Marion vs. Ralph Barlow (132) of Bucyrus. Forbis, southpaw sandlot pitcher, defeated Monroe Fields of Richwood, by a two-round referee's decision. His husky foe outpointed Howard Hodges of Marion this week and earlier scored a technical kayo over Alfred Witter of Marion.

Welterweight—Otis Scott (140) vs. James Gilmore (147), both of Marion. Scott, Harding High footballer of last season, has looked impressive in whipping Clarence Applegate of Bucyrus in two rounds and stopping John Turner of Marion in 70 seconds. Gilmore's record is almost as good. He consumed two rounds in getting a technical kayo over Clarence Harrison of Richwood and mowed down Charles Frye of Leonardsburg in the first.

Middleweight — Joe Benedict (157) of Marion vs. Charles Hightower (160) of Bucyrus. Benedict, a popular local lad, has bagged three victims. The first, Buck Moler of Marion, with a sleeper punch in the first; the second, Merle Kleinknecht of Galion, by decision and the third, James Casperson of Marion, by forfeit. Hightower is expected to furnish Benedict his toughest competition to date. The Bucyrus colored boy kayoed Kenneth Bartee of Marion for his single victory.

Light Heavyweight—Carl Werley (170) of Marion vs. Tom Walker (170) of Caledonia. It's the first battle for Werley, who some sports fans may remember as a regular on Marion St. Mary's football team last season. Walker, through an error of officials, was pitted against Middleweight Kleinknecht in a prelim bout. The Caledonian rapped out a decision over his experienced Galion foe.

Heavyweight — Russ Mendenhall (175) of Delaware, vs. Lee Wilson (175) of Columbus. Both will be making their first appearance. Mendenhall is the scrappy Delaware Willis High gridder. It was his work in one of the flank positions that held Marion Harding team to a standstill two years ago. Wilson is a product of Galion and has trained with other Crawford county boys appearing here. He just recently transferred his residence to Columbus.

"Screwball" Cagers Average 75 Points

By The Associated Press

KINGSTON, R. I.—Coach Frank Keaney's noble experiment in basketball pandemonium is far from finished at Rhode Island State.

The screwball tactics that won 18 of 20 games for the Rams and rolled up an average of 75 points a game are going to be continued in the future—with new wrinkles.

Calm and collected basketball, the kind Rhode Island State ignored all season, finally smacked down the Rams' flying circus. Brown, not an outstanding college team, played David to Rhode Island's Goliath and refused to try to keep pace with the high scorers.

Brown played a safe and sane, slow and orthodox game and whittled the Ram magic down to nothing. Other opponents had tried to match the Rams' pell mell tactics.

But one defeat never has indicted a system and next year Keaney and his boys are going on to bigger and better things.

Why not incorporate a little hockey into basketball and substitute complete new forward lines every few minutes?

Imagine a virtually fresh team on the floor throughout the game.

Keaney's present system of basketball started by "throwing away the book." In polite circles, he and his squad thereby gained the reputation of being a bit on the screwball side.

Their play was carefree, for Keaney's credo is that his swashbuckling sharpshooters can get two for every point scored against them.

Three snipers, who are up with the scoring leaders, gave him every excuse for forgetting about defense.

Three Top-Notchers

Center Stan Modrejewski with a current total of 442 points in 19 games; Bud Conley, who has dropped in 351, and Bill Rutledge, Bill's fellow forward, who is responsible for 213 more, have had much to say in Ram scoring surges.

Keaney's son Warner, a 260-pound broth of a boy, plays one of the guard berths.

Capt. Ed Petro, who does his share, fills out the first five. The second team would look creditable as the first string representative of any college.

You get dizzy watching them, but you ain't seen nuthin' yet. Trust the senior Keaney to see to that.

NEW BILLIARD CHAMP!

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, March 14—Jay Boreman, the Vallejo, Calif., cue star who had the experts digging up record books yesterday after his 30-8 bout of New York's Art Rubin, will bid for his third straight victory tonight in the $20,000 world three cushion billiard tournament. Welker Cochran, champion, is out.

MARION TEAMS SPLIT FINNISH AID GAMES

Ralph's Cagers Win, Bradley's Lose to Manafielders.

Marion cage teams broke even in a pair of games staged at the Armory last night as a benefit program in behalf of the Finnish relief fund.

Ralph's Snappy Service cribbers were victorious, 37-33, and Bradley's dropped a 36-28 decision, both playing the Blue Goose Sohioans of Mansfield. Ralph's was originally booked to entertain a Findlay quintet but when the team was unable to appear the Mansfield visitors played the doubleheader.

County representatives for a district farmer-sportsman organization will be selected at a meeting to be held in common pleas courtroom next Tuesday night, it is among the first of a series of county sessions to formulate a statewide farmer-sportsmen group to study conservation problems.

The plan, launched by Ohio conservation department officials, calls for seven district organizations in which all counties will be represented. Marion is in a 12-county district which includes Morrow, Delaware, Union, Franklin counties.

Several Marion men, active in conservation circles, were present at a similar organization meeting in Delaware county last night. The session was held at the Delaware courthouse and was attended by Carl Lehner, president of the Marion County Fish and Game Protective association, Arnold Swartz, Aaron Goetting and Harold Lauer, all of Marion.

Representatives to be selected in each county include a chairman, vice chairman and secretary. They will carry local problems to district conferences for study and solution. District delegates will be selected for a state farmer-sportsman group.

MARKET HAS QUIET SESSION

Dealings Are Light with Only Minor Price Changes Either Way.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 14—It was a case of "where do we go from here" in today's stock market.

With dealings light from the start, minor price changes either way ruled near the fourth hour.

Wall Street appeared more puzzled than pessimistic over possible repercussions from the Russian-Finnish peace and the result was that most traders were content to keep buying and selling commitments at a minimum while waiting for European skys to clear.

Although providing little comfort for commission houses, those with bullish ideas felt the business scene was brightening a bit and were encouraged by the fact offerings of important stocks never attained any real proportions.

Bonds were narrowly mixed, with recently buoyant Scandinavian dollar loans giving ground under profit realizing. Commodities, especially wheat futures, improved. Foreign securities markets were trendless.

Stocks posting plus marks at one time or another included Bethlehem Steel, Curtiss-Wright "A," General Electric, Johns-Manville, Anaconda, Consolidated Edison and Pennsylvania.

Lacking much support were General Motors, Chrysler, United Aircraft, Douglas Aircraft, Sears Roebuck and American Telephone.

Resistant in the curb were American Cyanamid "B," Bacock & Wilcox, A. C. Gilbert and Electric Bond & Share. Under water most of the time were Lake Shore, Creole Petroleum and Gulf Oil.

A contra-seasonal decrease in last week's freight loadings, centering principally in coal and grain shipments, failed to depress sentiment of rail holders to any noticeable extent. Part of the recession was attributed to tie-ups on a number of eastern roads due to exceptionally adverse weather conditions.

EARLY WHEAT GAINS LOST BEFORE CLOSE

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, March 14 — Early wheat price gains of about a cent based on large export sales of Canadian wheat, crop damage reports from Kansas and below freezing temperatures in the southwest were sharply reduced before the close of the grain market today.

At times prices dipped fractionally below previous closing levels. Some of the selling was regarded as hedging possibly against purchases of wheat that has been under loan. European news continued to cause nervousness.

Wheat closed ¼-½ higher than yesterday, May $1.01¼-1.03, July 99¾-¾; corn ½-½ up, May 86¼-⅜, July 86¾-¾; oats ¼-½ lower.

Cash wheat was unchanged; receipts 18 cars; corn was unchanged to ½ higher; basis for choice firm, others easier; receipts 66 cars; shipping sales 33,000 bushels; booked to arrive 28,000 bushels; oats unchanged.

The Stars Say—

For Friday, March 15

JUDGING by the lunar and mutual aspects, this will be a day in which affairs will move at a particularly high tempo, with much force and aggressiveness directed toward major objectives. The energies and faculties will be deep-seated and serious, and profoundly ambitious projects should succeed, especially if promoted by group action of a drastic and even ruthless tension. Refrain from strife and impetuosity. The personal relations may be pleasant and progressive.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year in which ambitious aims and projects will be accelerated to a high pitch by aggressive and drastic attack. New and daring propositions may count on the support of groups and organizations. Select associates of power and energy but avoid strife, impetuosity and recklessness. There will also be sympathy and support from social, domestic or affectional sources.

A child born on this day may be bold, aggressive, practical and studious, and have highly-creative abilities in many directions. It also may be kindly, sympathetic and co-operative with social groups having humane objectives.

In an area of 9,300 square miles the island of Sicily has a resident population in excess of 4,000,000, being more densely inhabited than the mainland of Italy.
